EMERGENCY MEDICAL AID is given to the two occupants of this car which collided with a train in the 1300 block of State Street early Sunday morning. The vehicle was dragged more than 20 feet by the train from the point of impact, with the engineer unaware of the accident and failing to stop. Madison volunteer firefighters extricated the driver and passenger. Both were seriously injured.

Two injured in train-auto accident

Two people were seriously injured in a car-train accident at 12:40 a.m. Sunday at 1332 State St., Madison, and are hospitalized at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Madison police officers observed the auto northbound in the 1200 block of State and heard the train whistle as it approached the crossing.

THEY HEARD THE CRASH and saw the vehicle being dragged from State Street to a point about 20 feet east of the place of impact. The crossing warning lights were flashing at the time of the collision, officers said. After the crash, the train did not stop.

Skid marks, apparently made by the right front tire of the auto, were noted about 63 feet from the initial contact, the officers added.

PAMELA WALLACE, 21, of 2007 Sixth St., East Madison, and a passenger in her car, James Chastain, 24, of 1809 Sreen St., Madison, were transported from the scene to the hospital by the Madison Fire Department ambulance staff.

Sustaining facial injuries and fractures of both kneecaps, she is in stable condition.

Chastain received abrasions to the face and underwent abdominal surgery due to possible lacerations to the liver. He is listed in stable condition in the SEMC intensive care unit.

New bus route curbed by GC

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
Staff writer

A group of Granite City residents opposed to the new Bi-State bus route delayed the start of the Madison County Transit Authority's program.

At Tuesday's Granite City Council meeting, three residents testified against the new route. They also presented petitions with 89 signatures opposing the change.

CONCERNS INCLUDED the number of children under age 12 who reside on the route, wear and tear on streets, lack of sidewalks on some of the streets on the new route and air pollution caused by the buses.

Council members answered with a motion to bring in a resolution forbidding the new route from going into effect June 3.

Madison County Transit Authority answered complaints by announcing Wednesday it will not implement the route until complaints are researched.

CHANGES IN FOUR routes and a new route were proposed by the transit authority after a year-long study, according to Rudy Johnson, managing director of the Madison and St. Clair county transit districts.

According to Johnson, a newspaper survey was taken first, followed by an on-board survey of bus riders. A final step before the new route was proposed to the transit authority was a public hearing.

Residents and aldermen said they knew nothing of the changes until they received notification of the new routes in the mail. Former Mayor Paul Schuler was Granite City's representative on the transit authority council at the time the route was approved.

Aldermen were miffed by the installation of bus stop signs along the new route. They contend the signs never received council approval for placement.

"They (Bi-State) can't go around and just put these signs up," said 2nd Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer. "If I had my way, I'd have the street department go out tomorrow with chains and pull every damn one of them down. That's how they should be taken care of."

"THEY'RE PUTTING signs up on Cleveland and that's a tree-lined street - that'll be ruined. They had no right to do this."

When asked for a legal opinion on the installation of the new signs, City Attorney Mark Goldenberg said he suspected the action was not proper.

"I'd have to check to see if there's any type of working agreement with the transit authority," Goldenberg said. "But I'd suspect they don't have an easement and they're putting these signs on private property. Based on that, I say they should not have placed the signs."

FOURTH WARD Alderman Sharon Perjak said she had received complaints from residents of West Granite who will be losing their bus routes.

Johnson said Wednesday he was surprised by the number of complaints that were expressed about the route.

"We had no indication before the council meeting that there was any type of opposition of this magnitude," Johnson said. "But with something that is as unpopular as this seems to be, our action is going to be to take a step back rather than impose something."

THE MADISON County Transit District wants to be sensitive to the entire community. We're going to research the complaints and maybe do some redesigns, go back to the drawing board so to speak."

Venice city council increases liquor license number to 15

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff writer

An amendment to the liquor license ordinance increasing the number of licenses from eight to 15 was passed without any dissenting votes at Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council.

Responding to a question from 1st Ward Alderman Phillip Daniels, Mayor Tyrone Echols said the new licenses will be granted in the category of package liquor sales.

CLASS B SPECIFIES the retail sale of alcoholic liquor, but not for consumption on the premises where sold. The annual fee of such a license is $550.

Daniels and 4th Ward Alderman Victor Valentine Sr. had argued against changing the number of permitted licenses when the issue first surfaced at the May 14 meeting.

Valentine objected to the total number of licenses being raised to 15. Daniels made no comment but voted negatively.

NEITHER ALDERMAN seemed opposed to the general concept of the measure prior to the figure of seven, new licenses being proposed.

The amended ordinance provides for a total of 15 licenses in all three categories, including Class A (retail sale for consumption on the premises as well as other retail sales of such liquor) and Class C licenses (authorizing the retail sale of alcoholic liquor for consumption on premises designated as clubs).

THE LIQUOR LICENSE issue was introduced to the council by Atorney Mike Billbre, who sought a package liquor license for Adam's Market, a grocery store at 1001 Logan Ave.

Other businesses in the community have sought package liquor licenses in the past but have been refused because of limitations stated in the ordinance, the mayor said.

The original ordinance, enacted in 1969, called for issuance of a total of nine licenses in three classifications. It was amended in 1977, reducing the total licenses from nine to eight.

STREET LIGHTING changes, outlined in a resolution placed on first reading by the aldermen, call for an additional light in the 200 block of Abbott Street, replacement of a light on an existing pole at the rear of 1330 Klein St., and removal of an alley light in the 200 block of Third Street.

Third Ward Alderman John Ervin reminded the aldermen of the cost to the city of installing new lights and suggested the aldermen get a map to see where existing lights are situated and take a close look at what lights are needed.

FIRST WARD ALDERMAN John Fleig suggested police officers could look at the alleyways and see if there is sufficient lighting for protective purposes or a reason to install more lights.

The mayor advocated leaving the proposed survey to the council's street and alley committee, however.

After talking with a couple of aldermen, Mayor Echols said, he has requested the city's health and building inspectors to attend at least one council meeting each month.

"RECENTLY, WE ARE having so much trouble with landlords. Please go by the book. Aldermen should go through their wards and, where there are deplorable conditions, make a note and we will issue citations."

"We will get the inspectors to look at it (property) and give notices and issue citations. We will do whatever it takes - liens and levies - to make them comply."

THE MAYOR was referring to absentee property owners and landlords, some of whom allegedly fail to make proper repairs to dilapidated property. They have been the subject of many discussions in council sessions.

Fleig suggested looking over city permit forms carefully, especially in regard to occupancy permits.

"THEY MUST BE completed the right way. Otherwise, we have nothing to stand on when we go to court," he cautioned.

"We have to give them 10 days' notice (before issuing citations) and everybody has to be (treated) the same."

Those seeking occupancy permits also will have to identify themselves," Fleig said, reporting on a recent incident in which a man alleged he was not the person who had signed a permit request.

Area church leaders and church groups will join with all Venice residents in opening-day ceremonies Saturday, June 1, to launch the Venice Park District's summer recreation program.

The schedule of activities, starting at 11 a.m., will be climaxed at 6:30 p.m. Saturday with "burning" of the mortgage of the Venice Recreation Center.

HIGHLIGHTING the special ceremony will be gospel singing by church choirs and other music, followed by a social hour and refreshments at the recreation center, 325 Broadway, according to the Rev. John Henry Williams, president of the Venice Board of Park Commissioners.

Anna Chaggett, a park board member and recreation chairman for the district, said activities are planned with appeal to all age levels.

A WALK THROUGH Lee Park will initiate events at 11 a.m. Saturday, with park district and city officials and many other residents, senior citizens and young people taking part.

Free food and drinks will be served at the Venice Recreation Center following the walk.

Theme of the day is "Come Alive in '85." A prize will be offered to the youngster who brings the most adults to the park Saturday.

HORSESHOE GAMES, races and volleyball contests for competitors ranging in age from 14 years to 61-and-over are planned.

The park district's baseball teams will be in action during the afternoon. Leagues presently are being formed for youngsters 4 through 7 years old in a "pee wee" division and for an older group, 8 through 16 years.

IN THE NEXT THREE months, the park district's summer recreation program also will feature free midday meals for children between the ages of 6 and 18 from low income families, Rev. Williams announced this week.

Meals will be served at the Venice schools' cafeteria Monday through Friday.

Further details of the meal program may be obtained Saturday or by calling Charles Collins at 451-7201 weekdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

GC mayor's paint program to be repeated this year

Community development funds again will be made available for a summer house painting program in Granite City. Mayor Von Dee Cruse announced today.

The painting will be done by crews consisting of college students working under the direction of a journeyman painter.

ALL RESIDENTS interested in having their homes painted must first complete an application form at the mayor's office. The forms then are approved or disapproved by the Madison County development staff in Edwardsville.

No one who has participated in the summer paint program before will be eligible to have his home painted again.

To qualify for the program, a residence must be a single-family, owner-occupied home. The applicant must meet income limits set by U.S. Housing and Urban Development authorities. Priorities in the program will be based on need.

ONLY WHITE PAINT will be available. The scope of the work will be established with each resident prior to scheduling of the job, and the students' work will be limited to scraping, cleaning and painting on the outside of the home.

Income must be verified by each applicant by presenting a benefit or pay stub, a copy of his federal income tax 1040 form, or a statement from his employer.

Ownership must be verified by a copy of the deed to the home or a copy of the property tax statement, Cruse said.

Copies of original documents can be made at the mayor's office, where the telephone number for additional information is 452-6214.

Aggressive child in need of loving care

William is a six-year-old boy who enjoys playing outdoors in a sandbox or with his toy trucks. Although he is very bright, he attends special education classes because of his high activity level, his inability to concentrate on tasks and his aggressiveness.

As an infant, William was diagnosed as "failure to thrive" and was quite small. He is now of average size and has a husky build. He was in foster care as an infant but has been part of his natural family for several years, according to the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

William's natural parent sought help from DCF because his behavior in his home setting was deteriorating. In the time William has spent in emergency foster care, his emergency foster parent has found his behavior to be manageable.

His emergency foster parent observes that William is best when he plays by himself. She admits he does begin to show aggression when he plays with other children.

The foster mother also says William is intelligent, a bright child with a great deal of potential. He is currently under the care of a psychiatrist.

Carolyn Cleveland, a resource worker with DCF, is seeking a long-term foster care resource for William. He will need a foster home for much longer than the average stay in foster care of from six to 12 months.

Although the future goal is uncertain at this time, William may become available for adoption. Prospective foster parents who would be willing to work with him as a foster child and accept the uncertainty of possible adoption are needed.

Carolyn Cleveland believes William needs a strong, understanding family that could cope with his aggressiveness, his activity and his use of foul language. William's foster family should attend counseling with him to modify his negative behavior, she said, adding, "DCF has many children like William who need the understanding and support of a loving family. We provide training and the expertise of social workers familiar with the problems of children who have turbulent early childhoods."

Each foster parent receives a monthly board check ranging from $210 for an infant to $259 for a child over the age of 12 years. Medical, dental and pharmaceutical expenses are paid separately by the State of Illinois. For information on William or on foster care of children of any age, people may call Jane Heathcote at 878-8985.

Alliance for Mentally Ill affiliate being organized

Mental Health Services of Southern Madison County (Granite City, Collinsville, Edwardsville and Highland) is announcing formation of a Madison County unit of the Alliance for the Mentally Ill (AMI). The National Alliance for the Mentally Ill came into being in September 1979, when a group of families at Madison, Wis., formed a self-help group.

There are 400 AMI affiliates across the nation. Each local affiliate brings families together to deal with the problem of mental illness.

They bond together to promote research on causes and cures for brain diseases, advocate high-quality community support and treatment systems, foster education of the public about mental illness to erase the stigma that follows the mentally ill, provide mutual support for members, and instill the belief that victims can restore their lives to a degree of order.

"There are many families with an ill member who are in great pain but who either have no AMI group in the area or are not sure of it. This not only denies them the comfort, reassurance and practical help offered by such a group, but it denies the community service providers the potential energies of those families as advocates for the resources needed to serve the mentally ill," Terri Lanter, case manager, said. Her telephone number is 656-8721.

Meetings are set for the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, including May 28 at 7 p.m. in Eden Church of Christ, Edwardsville. The meetings are open to families and friends of the mentally ill from all surrounding communities.

Local assessor explains reassessment publication

By SUSANNE INDELICATO

Nameoki Township Assessor Carl Macios warned property owners Tuesday that changes in their real estate assessments would not be published in local newspapers.

During a meeting of the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees, Macios said the reassessments would be published in the Edwardsville Intelligence this year.

The decision to publish in only one newspaper was based on cost, according to the Madison County supervisor of assessments. Publishing the list in the lowest-bidding newspaper will cost $8,500, compared to $24,000 when the list was published in several papers last year.

"We will have cards," Macios explained. "Anytime an assessment is changed, you (the property owner) will get a card, telling why and what for, before it is published in the paper."

Macios said property owners who are not satisfied with their assessments and who do not receive such a card within the next three weeks should call his office.

In addition, Macios hopes the county supervisor of assessments office will notify him when the reassessment list will be published. If notified, Macios intends to publish a notice in local newspapers to "tell people when to pick up an Edwardsville paper."

DAV Chapter supports VA medical aid

Robert Kennerly, commander of Disabled American Veterans, Quad-City Chapter 53, led a discussion at a chapter meeting on a Wall Street Journal article that said many veterans are receiving free medical service for ailments not connected with their service time.

Harry Walter, VA administrator, disagreed with the conclusion and said any suggestion that veterans should not have special medical benefits is "disgusting."

In other business, Larry Lockhart reported Bryan Waggoner and Bill Kmucha are patients in the Jefferson Barracks Hospital. John Baker and Jim Green have been released from the hospital and Roscoe Terry is confined at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, he added.

Andrew Gitchoff said he visited John Kozak, who is now at home after being hospitalized.

Six new members were accepted, increasing the chapter membership to 438, according to Joe Heffery.

Heffery said membership of the DAV nationally exceeds one million members.

Donations were approved for the Granite City Council of Seniors and DAV Auxiliary Unit 53 as reimbursement for expenses incurred in visiting veterans in VA hospitals in St. Louis and Marion, Ill.

After the meeting, refreshments were served by Bob Pine and Paul Cooper.

Protect the lake's environment

Even though he has just been reversed by the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, we think U.S. District Judge William Beatty was right in 1984. He ruled that the Army Corps of Engineers had failed to give adequate consideration to the Alton Lake environment in granting a permit in 1982 for a temporary barge mooring facility.

The 2-1 reversal means that National Marine Service can reopen its mooring operations until the replacement lock and dam project is completed in 1988. Even if the new Lock 26 and dam in the Mississippi River are finished on time, which is far from certain, the time span seems long and inappropiate.

The Alton Telegraph newspaper reacted by saying "It may not be entirely wise to bring to a halt a multi-million dollar construction job because a pair of field mice would be inconvenienced," but added that this is not the kind of issue being decided; "it the Mississippi River gets loused up because of some foolish decision, or some decisions based only on financial gain or industrial convenience, those allowing the infringement on nature will have much for which to answer."

The topic is of interest here and elsewhere because of Alton Lake's regionwide role as a center of sailing and boating. On a bright weekend day, it is a busy and beautiful scene of aquatic activity ranging from water skiing to relaxing voyages on vessels of all sizes, including large yachts.

In a strong dissent to the Appeals Court's action, Judge Harrington Wood Jr. pointed out that turbulence created by tugboat motors can reshape a river bottom, potentially altering the lake in a negative, permanent way.

We urge the River Road Alliance, plaintiff in the lawsuit, to appeal the 7th Court's decision.

Don't increase county sales tax

Madison County government could get up to $2,300,000 in additional sales taxes under a plan just approved 31-22 by the Illinois Senate. But should it? Definitely not, County Auditor Arthur "Pete" Fields says, calling the proposal a hidden tax increase.

The theoretical trade-off is that counties adding a quarter-cent sales tax on items other than food and drugs would have to cut their general fund tax rate from 12 to nine cents on each $100 assessed valuation. But this would save Madison County taxpayers only about $400,000, or $2.4 million less than the increase in sales tax revenue, according to figures from Senate staff members.

Counties would not be forced to make the "trade." But spending, requests undoubtedly would exert strong pressure on board members to make use of the legislation, if it is passed by the House and approved by the governor.

The quarter-cent would be added to five cents per sales dollar for the state, one cent for the county and a quarter-cent for the county's transit district.

Aside from the public's general opposition to higher taxes, legislators and counties ought to consider the adverse impact of a high sales tax in counties where stores and dealers must compete with businesses in other states.

This county ran into potential fiscal trouble in 1982 but met it head-on by trimming expenditures to the amount of revenue available. Officials were able to "hold the line" and even to decrease the real estate tax this year.

As Fields comments, it is not fair to authorize a higher level of taxation merely because some counties are spending more money than they have.

He adds, "The problems many counties have are due to weak fiscal management. The easy thing to do is say, 'Give me more money.' But the counties should see what they can do to cut expenses. They have to find ways to keep taxes down."

GC council puts the public first

John Petish will be able to speak before the Granite City Town Board.

So will any other township resident. Hopefully, residents will first, courteously, try to get on the agenda before speaking. But if they do not, they will have an opportunity to speak because Mayor Von Dee Cruse and at least some of the aldermen want to hear them.

Petish was kept from speaking at a recent township board meeting because he was not on the agenda. He was deeply concerned about a township problem involving senior citizens, but he was not allowed to speak.

Essentially, he was told the rules are the rules — by the board, for the board, for the board.

Cruse, at this week's City Council meeting, put the public before the board. Rules of no rules, the public should be heard, he said.

That's a great attitude for a public official to have: a fine stand to take. It sends out a message of open, honest government.

It shows the people where they stand and who stands for them.

The mayor, and the aldermen who support such progressive thinking, show they are worthy of the high public trust that has been placed in them.

Nameoki approves budget

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

The 1985-86 budget for Nameoki Township calls for revenue and expenditures of $443,433, an increase of $31,780 over last year's budget.

The budget for the new fiscal year, which began March 1 and ends Feb. 28, 1986, was unanimously approved by the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees Tuesday.

THE BUDGET anticipates revenues and expenditures of $235,882 in the general fund, $113,791 in the general assistance fund, $66,000 in the federal revenue sharing fund and $28,760 in the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund. Appropriations include $63,700 for salaries within the administrative division of the town fund. That includes the salaries of elected township officials. Last year, $64,442 was budgeted for salaries.

A total of $192,174 has been earmarked for the administration division of the general town fund, up $7,898. In the assessor division, $28,920 in the assessor fund, $4,450 in the assessor fund.

BUDGET ITEMS totaling $6,168 for the collector's division have increased by $3,848. Much of that is due to an increase of $3,568 for the collector's salary.

Township officials expect to spend more for tax collection this year because tax bills were mailed May 15. Last year, the bills were not mailed until September.

The township received its first disbursement from tax collections Tuesday. Tax Collector Steve Isenburgh expects to make weekly disbursements through the remainder of the collection process.

THE FEDERAL revenue sharing fund, down $4,859 from last year, will be used to finance such items as health programs, social programs for the aged, ambulance service, the Senior Aides program, a toll-free number to the Madison County Sheriff's Department and street light rentals.

In addition, $24,000 is being transferred to the road district budget for environmental clean-up services.

Important to stress safety in area boating

To the Editor:

Boating is supposed to be fun, and for most people it is. However, every year hundreds die in boating accidents, and more are injured.

In addition, millions of dollars in property loss and damage are experienced. That is not fun; that is tragedy. The worst part is that nearly all of these accidents are preventable.

Coast Guard statistics show that 65 percent of boating fatalities are caused by capsizing, and people falling overboard. Often, the victim drowns before a rescue can be made. Of all boating fatalities, about 10 percent last year were caused by death, and 75 percent did not wear a lifejacket.

In other words, boating fatalities could be reduced as much as 75 percent if people would wear a Coast Guard-approved lifejacket. A lifejacket can save your life, but only if you wear it.

Many of the injuries and much of the property damage are caused by collision. The usual explanation is that "I just didn't see the other boat" or "I didn't see the other boat until it was too late."

On the accident reports, these are listed as "failure to keep proper lookout" or "loss of control." Such accidents invariably happen on nice, clear day with unlimited visibility, usually on a Saturday or Sunday afternoon.

Contributing to many of these accidents may be the fact that exposure to the sun, wind, motion, vibration, glare and noise of operating a boat for three or four hours is very tiring. These stresses may reduce an operator's ability to observe and react, nearly as much as if he were legally drunk.

If you have also had a few drinks, your abilities are even more reduced. So, be aware of these dangers, reduce your speed, keep a sharp lookout, and don't raise the cocktail flag until you are back in port.

Much injury and damage are caused by fires and explosions. Of all the accidents, fires and explosions are probably the easiest to prevent. The root cause is a lack of care.

Victims usually fail to check their boat for stray fuel vapors or refueling or fail to maintain the fuel systems in safe working order. Don't be in a hurry; slow down and check for fuel odors before starting engines. Gasoline is a powerful explosive and has a very short fuse.

It is easy to reduce one's chances of becoming a boating accident. Wear your personal flotation device, keep your weight low in an open boat, smell for fuel vapors, maintain your boat in good operating condition and stay alert. Then show courtesy and consideration, and boating will be the fun it is supposed to be for everyone.

National Safe Boating Week is June 2 through 8. Statistics on boating casualties have improved over the past ten years. This is due in part to the public awareness generated by the U.S. Coast Guard, the Coast Guard Auxiliary, the American Red Cross and such boating organizations as the U.S. Power Squadron.

Their goal is for everyone to become more aware of the importance of safe boating, and all boat operators to be more responsible not only to themselves but to their guests onboard and their families.

Delay videotaping of school pupils

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

A program to provide videotapes of all Granite City elementary school students for use in the event of a missing child case will wait until the fall.

Fantasy Video Productions of Alton made a presentation to the Granite City School Board May 21. The board referred the video firm to the police, and Police Chief Bill Harris said he would prefer to wait until fall to start the program.

"I felt like we were a little bit rushed at this time," Harris said. "They had wanted to do it (taping) before the end of the school year, but that's only a week away. I thought some things needed to be checked out."

The board referred the matter to the police because of concern over who would store the tapes once they were made. Both the board and Harris indicated they were behind the concept of making the tapes, but Harris felt some more details needed to be worked out.

"I was told to the whole thing when they came to me," he said. "I hadn't been discussed with me at all. They came to me on Thursday and I told them to get back with me on Friday."

The plan would involve making brief videotapes of children in kindergarten through the sixth grade. If a child turned up missing, the tape would provide police with a more detailed view of the child than a photograph, according to Larry Canada of Fantasy Video.

The school board preferred having the tapes stored at the police station rather than at school board offices. "It would be more practical to have them there," Board President Kelly Hogan said.

Man sentenced for child pornography

Charles Miller, 49, of 2107 Illinois Ave., has been sentenced to eight years in prison for child pornography and seven years in prison for aggravated criminal sexual abuse.

The sentences are to run concurrently. Miller pleaded guilty to the charges May 14 before Madison County Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick.

The charges were filed Jan. 25 after an investigation by Granite City police.

A relative of a 13-year-old Granite City girl provided evidence by turning in 13 nude photographs of the girl. The photographs allegedly were taken by Miller on Jan. 20.

Births recorded at Oliver Anderson Hospital, Maryville include:

BOYS

Mr. and Mrs. James (Rebecca) Hileman, Granite City, May 23.

Canada said taping of the entire student population would fill up no more than 20 standard VHS tapes, so storage would not take up a great deal of room.

The board also suggested the police sponsor the program so all children in the area might get involved rather than just those in the public schools.

Harris said he was open to that idea.

"We're 100 percent behind this," he said. "It's a good idea, no doubt. But I think it's better now if we wait until the new school year starts and do it right. Also, if this company is going to videotape our kids, I think we need to do a little checking on them first."

Video suggested a $2 charge per child for taping, although payment would be non-mandatory. Fantasy Video would be responsible for all profits or losses incurred. If the program is instituted, participation by each student would also be non-mandatory.

YMCA has Cards' tickets

The Tri-City YMCA has 200 tickets to the St. Louis Cardinals' baseball game with the Houston Astros on Wednesday, June 5.

First priority for the tickets will go to children ages 8-16 years, although there should be plenty of tickets for anyone who wants them, said Bob Slate, program director. Children who will attend the game should have written parental permission slips.

In addition to the ticket sales, the YMCA is providing transportation to and from the game. A $4 cost covers the cost of transportation and insurance.

Persons seeking tickets or a place on one of the buses may purchase their ticket and reserve a bus seat now at the YMCA, at 2001 Edison.

Buses will leave the YMCA at 6 p.m. and return immediately after the game. Persons seeking further information may call the YMCA at 876-7200.

Ensemble from Zagreb to play, sing in Madison

The Tamburitza ensemble "Tajna" from Zagreb, Croatia, along with Croatian singer Dusan Cacic, will appear in a two-hour concert at the Croation Home, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison, Tuesday, June 4, at 7 p.m.

Making its first U.S. tour in conjunction with the Croatian Jubilee IV in Pittsburgh, Pa., the group chose Madison for its only appearance in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

The ensemble consists of seven young musicians who play and sing many Croatian folk songs, including "Snivaj, Snivaj, Zlati Moje" and "Kazi Mi Kazi."

Admission tickets at $5 each may be purchased at the Croation Home or from Kathy Debevc, Frank Mudrovic or John Bilich.

Proceeds from this performance of "Tajna" are to be used to establish a fund that, in the future, will assist in arranging for other performing groups to appear in the St. Louis area.

The Granite City Park District will have special ID (identification card) sessions on Tuesday, June 4, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday, June 8, from 9:30 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. at the Wilson Park office.

Proof of residency, such as a rent receipt or current utility bill with name and address, will be required at the time the picture is taken for the card. The cost is $1 and the card is good for three years.

The ID card enables residents to obtain a discount at the swimming pool and ice rink, as well as to reserve a tennis court or picnic shelter.

FINDS OBSTACLE ON BRIDGE

After clearing debris from east-bound lanes of the McKinley Bridge near the Missouri side, a Venice police officer this week reported something hit the underside of his squad car. He found the obstacle to be a rod protruding from the center of the bridge surface. Locating another rod sticking up from the surface, he pushed it down before noticing a two-foot-long hole, going entirely through the bridge. It was not determined what caused the damage.

-New bus route-

proposed included the implementation of a 534 North Granite-Niedringhaus route. The new route was scheduled to travel between Poplar Street at Route 3 and Granite City Center by way of Niedringhaus, 19th, Edison, 27th, State, Fehling, Narenski via Crossroads Shopping Center and Pontoon, Mitchell, Ball, Courtney, Miracle, Orville and Maryville. Inbound trips were to continue on Fehling and Benton to 27th, Cleveland, 21st and Niedringhaus. Seven motorists reported damage to their automobiles to Madison police at 11:30 p.m. Friday.

All had been northbound on Illinois Route 203 about one-fourth mile south of Harrison Street, under a railroad overpass.

THE DRIVERS SAID an unknown person or persons dropped or threw debris and rocks from the overpass onto the passing vehicles, damaging the roofs, windshields or other windows.

Kenn Lear, East St. Louis, said his car roof was damaged and the windshield broken. Perry Luffman, 18 Parktown Drive, reported damage to the roof of his auto. Wanda Davis, Belleville, said a window in her car was broken and there was damage to the roof, while Richard Gibson, 2025 Missouri Ave., reported his car was hit with debris.

Chouteau sewer work near end

By RACHEL NEWSOME
A second payment to Thames Construction Co. for divisions one and two of a Long Lake Park sewer project was approved at Tuesday's Chouteau Township board meeting. The payment was $13,728.

Edward Juneau, representing Juneau & Associates, project engineers, said he had met with Thames Construction and discussed completion and a contract change order.

Approved by township trustees, the change order provides $774 for materials exceeding those originally projected, adjusting the overall contract to $26,126. However, taking into account reductions in the projected workload, Juneau expects a saving of possibly $3,000.

The project includes installation of a new storm sewer, replacement of all culverts and cleaning of all ditches in Long Lake Park. Completion is expected soon.

In other action, the board approved a continuation of lawn services from Chem Lawn in 1985. Cost will be $187, an increase of $22 from 1984. The company serves township-owned property.

Mike Johnson, Chouteau tax collector, reported his office is open. Taxes collected will be distributed to local governmental bodies by mail immediately, he said.

Johnson added that he wants to clarify that both real estate tax statements may be paid at one time.

The board's next regular meeting is slated for June 10 at 7 p.m.

Post office unlikely for Pontoon Beach

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

It is unlikely that a post office will be located in Pontoon Beach in the near future, according to a letter to the village board from William T. Johnstone, assistant postmaster general in Washington, D.C.

The village board had written to Johnstone requesting that a postal branch be established in Pontoon Beach. The board also requested that the village be given a zip code. Pontoon Beach currently shares Granite City's zip code, 62440.

Johnstone's letter, read during the village board meeting Tuesday, said the growth of the village "is not sufficient" to justify a post office, and the village is receiving "adequate" service from the Granite City post office.

He added there are no plans for an additional post office at this time, but the request will be "kept under review."

In other action Tuesday, the trustees granted a variance to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Merritt of 35 Iris Ave. The couple plans to construct a garage on the property.

Village Attorney Keith Jensen informed the board that the village has one Class B liquor license available for the sale of beer and wine. Applications for the license will be taken until Saturday, June 1.

Finally, the board approved appointment of Antoinette Wilson to a two-year term on the zoning board of appeals.

St. Louis educator will address Venice graduates

By VALERIE EVENEDEN

Staff writer
Dr. Julius C. Dix, assistant superintendent of secondary education for the St. Louis Public Schools, will be guest speaker at commencement exercises at 7 p.m. Thursday, May 30, in the Venice High School gymnasium.

Thirty-one seniors will graduate in the ceremonies, receiving their diplomas from Wilbert Glasper, president of the Venice Board of Education.

The Mount Nebo Baptist Church Youth Choir will present choral arrangements and welcoming remarks will be offered by Venice Superintendent of Schools Robert N. Vickers and Venice High School Principal John Rush.

The commencement speaker received his Ph.D. in educational administration from St. Louis University in 1980. He holds a master's degree in guidance and counseling from Washington University, St. Louis, and a bachelor of arts degree in biology from Lincoln University, Jefferson City, Mo.

Except for a two-year period, Dr. Dix has been with the St. Louis Public Schools since 1964, when he began his career in education as an elementary school teacher.

He took a leave of absence in 1966-68 to serve as director of Project Head Start, a joint venture of the St. Louis City and County schools.

In the St. Louis Public Schools, Dr. Dix also has served in several administrative capacities, including area superintendent and associate superintendent of operations and as a district superintendent.

Prior to 1965, he was principal of Vashon High School and earlier was assistant principal at the same school, an elementary school principal and an administrative assistant to Dr. Samuel Shepard.

A native of St. Louis, Dr. Dix is married and the father of three children. He served two years in the Army during the Korean war.

Among the educator's numerous honors, he received the Citation of Merit as the outstanding alumni member in 1975 at Lincoln University, and Distinguished Alumni Award in 1982 from his alma mater.

In 1964, Dr. Dix was the recipient of the Head Start Distinguished Service Award and earned the St. Louis Argus Distinguished Public Service Award in 1982.

He is a member of the Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development, American Education and Research Association, Phi Delta Kappa, Phi Lambda Theta, Omega Psi Phi fraternities, Adult Education Council and Missouri Arts Council.

Dr. Dix is on the board of directors of the Webster Groves Civic Symphony, Webster Groves YMCA, Model Cities Day Care, Northside Home for Delinquent Boys, Edgewood Home for Youth with Special Problems, Ferrier Harris Home for the Aged and Annie Malone Children's Home.

3 children are in need of home

David, Aretha and John are adolescents who fall into the "hard to place" category, the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services said here today. David is an attractive, athletic 14-year-old with behavior typical of a child who has been sexually abused.

Aretha, 12, is also a victim of sexual abuse. This black adolescent can at times behave like a child, yet at other times acts "street wise." Her temporary foster mother has been working on Aretha's hygiene, truancy and defiance problems.

John is an athletic 15-year-old who enjoys working outdoors. He has made a positive relationship with his emergency foster parents. John's problems include shoplifting, drug abuse and abusive behavior toward young children. He does well in mathematics and has the ability to do well in high school.

These three were first placed in temporary emergency homes. An emergency home is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week to accept children who need foster care.

In most cases, children are moved from emergency placement to regular placement as soon as possible. In the cases of David, Aretha and John, there are no regular foster homes available.

All three suffered traumatic childhood experiences. This, however, does not make their behaviors any easier for prospective foster parents to accept, a spokesman commented.

It is planned to place them in foster homes where there are no children under the age of 12 who could be influenced by them. The department says it is in desperate need of foster homes for adolescents like them.

Prospective foster parents participate in a training program before foster children are placed in their homes. DCFS also offers supportive services to foster parents of troubled adolescents. These include supportive counseling, additional training, and homemaker and advocate services.

For more information on David, Aretha, John or other hard-to-place children, area residents may call Jane Heathcote at 876-8885.

Delay sought in roadside mowing

Landowners can make a major contribution to wildlife conservation by delaying roadside mowing until August, according to Larry David, head of the Illinois Department of Conservation's "Roadsides for Wildlife" program.

David said the next few months will be crucial for pheasants and other ground-nesting species. A scarcity of suitable wildlife habitat has made overgrown strips along rural roads increasingly important to these species, he said, adding:

"Many species of wildlife already have built nests and are preparing to raise families."

"Mowing roadsides will destroy not only the nests, but in some instances the hens, who will remain on their nests when eggs are ready to hatch. Delaying mowing until August will provide adequate time for small animals and birds to build nests and raise their young."

Where noxious weeds are especially prevalent, David advised spot mowing or spot spraying to alleviate the problem. He said seeding roadsides with sod-forming grasses is an effective method of retarding weeds while substantially reducing the need for mowing.

CHICAGO MAN INJURED WHEN VAN LEAVES I-270

Gregory B. Hager, 35, of Chicago was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center early May 28 after a one-vehicle accident on Interstate 270.

State police learned Hager's van was westbound on I-270 when it left the roadway, came down an embankment, struck Route 111, flipped and landed upside-down against a guardrail. Hager was issued a ticket for improper lane usage.

Farms, labor, state working to ease unemployment costs

Business and labor officials in Illinois have agreed to extend for six months an unemployment insurance (UI) package that is expected to save businesses millions of dollars in taxes and the state millions of dollars in interest payments.

Gov. James R. Thompson meanwhile appointed a nine-member Employment Security Advisory Board to propose ways to continue Illinois' progress toward reducing its UI Trust Fund debt to the federal government, and to make recommendations on ways to improve the state's jobless compensation programs.

"When I brought officials from business, labor and government to the Executive Mansion in 1983, we faced a seemingly unbeatable foe in a huge and growing debt to the U.S.," Thompson said. "Since then, with intelligent management, a sound plan and an improving economy, we've surpassed even our best predictions and have been paying back Washington faster than anyone expected."

"But we're not done yet. By agreeing to a six-month extension of the 1983 plan, businesses here will save millions of dollars that can be kept in Illinois to help create jobs and stimulate the economy," he said, praising bipartisan efforts by the General Assembly's leadership.

The 1983 package is scheduled to expire June 30, 1986, a move that would violate U.S. Department of Labor solvency guidelines for states with UI debts. With a six-month extension, Illinois will save $27.2 million in interest payments. It also will slow increases in federal unemployment taxes for Illinois companies.

Since the UI debt reduction plan was adopted two years ago, Illinois employers have had their Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA) penalty payment increases held to .1 percent a year rather than the mandated 3 percent annual adjustment. Funds generated from those payments are used to pay the non-interest bearing portion of a state's UI debt.

FUTA rates would jump from the current .8 percent to 1.1 percent without the six-month extension, an increase that would cost Illinois employers $47.2 million — $259.6 million without the extension to $212.4 million with it.

The advisory board named last week consists of three officials each from public, business and labor circles. Chairing the board will be Arthur Queen, president and chief executive officer of Rglin Burdick Hunter and Co. and former deputy governor. Also from the public sector are Sylvia Dennen, tax consultant for Coopers and Lybrand, and James Washburn, mayor of Morris.

Business will be represented by Lester Brann, president, Illinois State Chamber of Commerce; David Vite, president, Illinois Retail Merchants Association; and Arthur Gottschalk, president, Illinois Manufacturers Association.

Serving on the Board from labor will be Wesley Issacson, secretary and treasurer, Chicago and Northwestern Illinois District Council of Carpenters; Robert Gibson, president, Illinois AFL-CIO; and Marshall McDuffy, president, Teamsters Joint Council 65.

The board will work to create a long-term solvency plan for the Illinois UI system, which in 1983 had a $2 billion debt when the governor called for a plan to rescue the system.

Officials at the time estimated that the $1.9 billion solvency package would at best bring the system "out of the red" by perhaps late 1985 or early 1986. But in 1984 the UI system repaid the U.S. more than $660 million in interest and non-interest bearing debt, the first repayment to Washington since 1975.

"Because of our ability to improve the financial health of an important system, we must take steps now — while the UI system is rebounding — to safeguard it for the future. The board's primary objective will be to find ways to ensure the long-term solvency of the Illinois unemployment insurance system," Thompson said.

While he called on board members to recommend to him and the General Assembly before it adjourns in June ways to guarantee solvency of the system, he said they must also keep in mind several factors in their work, including: an adequate wage replacement system; competitive tax rates between Illinois and other states; an equitable distribution of the tax burden; and a manageable UI system that reduces administrative burdens on both employers and the Department of Employment Security.

State college board wants campus status for GCC

The first step in establishing Belleville Area College's Granite City and Red Bud centers as campuses has been taken.

The Illinois Community College Board approved BAC's applications for campus status for the two centers May 24. The final step for establishment of the campuses will come July 9 when the Illinois Board of Higher Education considers the applications.

"GCC's approval of campus status is a recognition of the growth we've experienced at Granite City and Red Bud," the BAC vice president for planning and development, Dr. Robert Eskridge, said. "And it shows the system's faith in continued growth at both sites."

"Campus status means we can better serve the populations in the two areas and can offer even more complete degree programs," Eskridge added. "As campuses, we'll be providing more instruction and more services."

Red Bud Center offers associate degree and certificate programs in data processing technology, marketing management, business management, secretarial science and word processing.

BAC growth boosts budget to $15 million

Belleville Area College President Dr. Bruce R. Wissore presented a proposed $15.9 million budget to the college's board of trustees May 22. The public hearing on the budget is set for June 26.

The budget represents a continuing trend of putting smaller and smaller percentages of the college's funds into salaries and larger percentages into buildings, equipment and instructional materials. Seventy-two percent of the budget is slated for salaries, a decrease from 83 percent seven years ago. An agreement with the faculty union, reached a year ago, calls for a wage freeze for the second time in three years and a lower pay scale for new hires.

Administrative salaries also will be frozen during the 1985-86 school year.

Dollars spent on salaries overall will be 7.91 percent higher than during the past fiscal year. The increase is mostly because of positions added at the college's three campuses.

A director of marketing and an assistant to the athletic director will be hired at the Belleville campus. A full-time business instructor and a recruiter will be hired at Granite City Center.

The proposed budget estimates a 9.6 percent increase in revenue including a 25.3 percent — or $1.2 million — increase in state dollars.

State funding is based on enrollment; BAC will receive increased dollars because enrollment at the college has fared better than that at other Illinois community colleges.

Recruitment efforts and the opening of Granite City and Red Bud centers have helped BAC avoid drastic drops in enrollment experienced elsewhere, it was noted.

Also projected in the budget is a 5 percent increase in local tax dollars because of an anticipated rise in assessed valuation in the college district and a 2.1 percent increase in dollars received from tuition and fees.

The additional tuition and fee revenue is based on a projected 5 percent drop in enrollment coupled with a $2 per credit hour increase in tuition. The board approved the tuition increase from $23 per credit hour to $25 per credit hour earlier this year, effective for the fall 1985 semester.

A 60 percent increase in capital outlay spending includes expenditures for facilities at the Belleville and Granite City sites.

The budget is prepared through use of zero-based budgeting techniques and a series of open hearings. Administrators and faculty members participate in the process.

The public hearing on the budget is scheduled for 7 p.m. Wednesday, June 26, in rooms 1410 and 1411 at the college's Belleville campus, 2509 Carlyle Road. The budget is available for public inspection from now until then.

K. Our son experienced a serious financial setback nearly fifteen years ago, and was forced to declare bankruptcy. If he applies for credit now, will this still be reported by credit reporting agencies, or is there a statute of limitation on this sort of black mark on a person's credit record?

A: There is a law which requires the deletion of dated of obsolete information from a person's credit record. This is the Fair Credit Reporting Act, which also requires that a person be given access to his or her credit file as well as the right to have errors corrected. Normally, most credit information is reported for seven years. In the case of personal bankruptcy, the reporting period is usually ten years. After that length of time, the reporting agency cannot report information unless one is applying for life insurance in excess of $50,000 or employment which pays more than $20,000 per year.

Illegal dumping concerns Nameoki Township officials

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs told the Town Board of Trustees Tuesday there has been a problem with illegal dumping along township roads.

Authorities have apprehended several persons dumping debris along roads, Briggs said, and those persons have been heavily fined.

Paul Hawkins of the Madison County Environmental Control Office said persons convicted of illegal dumping may be fined up to $500 under state law.

In addition, under the Madison County Sanitation Act, violators may be fined up to $200 for each day debris remains illegally dumped.

Briggs reported numerous illegal dumpings along Slough Road, and Hawkins confirmed that Slough Road "has been a problem for years."

Hawkins said his office doesn't have the funds to clean up the debris. Many times, he said, road commissioners will have the debris picked up, or if a violator is found, he may have to clean it up himself. But Briggs indicated the township is bearing much of the clean-up cost.

"It's really costing us money having to clean this up," he said.

The sheriff's department has alleviated some of the problem by patrolling township roads, Briggs said.

In other matters Tuesday, Trustee Joseph Garcia asked township attorney Irvin Slate Jr. what can be done to get property owners to cut overgrown grass and weeds on their properties.

Slate advised the board that it could send the property owner a notice that the weeds must be cut. After adequate time has been given for the weed-cutting, Slate said the township could cut the weeds and charge the property owner for the cutting by putting a lien on the property.

The trustees also approved a bid of $15.45 per gallon for insecticide for the township's annual mosquito eradication program.

Elderly pleased with doctors, hospitals but worried about cost, aid complexity

"Speaking Out on Health Care," a report on what 1,200 senior citizens said at 12 speakouts held across Illinois, has been issued to government leaders by the Illinois Council on Aging.

Chairman Willard C. Rasmussen of Park Ridge said a Springfield council member, Larry Cadwell, presented the report to Gov. James R. Thompson during the governor's Senior Day in Springfield, where 300 seniors from throughout the state were honored in recognition of Older Americans Month.

It is being distributed to members of the Illinois General Assembly, Illinois Congressional delegation, Illinois Department on Aging, Area Agencies on Aging, and senior advocate groups.

The speakouts were held from late October to mid-December in Quincy, Mt. Vernon, Springfield, Danville, Harvey, Freeport, LaGrange, Moline, East St. Louis, Chicago, Peoria and Arlington Heights.

"In each of these areas, seniors from all walks of life provided personal testimony that served as a sobering commentary on the status of health care for the elderly," said Rasmussen.

"Whether they resided in rural, urban, low-income or minority areas, participants were emphatic and unanimous in their belief that improvements can and must be made to provide accessible, affordable and adequate health care to Illinois seniors."

High on the list of concerns was

"the refusal of 70 percent of Illinois physicians to accept Medicare assignments."

Other complaints included "astronomical hospital bills" above Medicare allowances, hospitals that discharge patients "early" to go home or into nursing homes because of the federal government's Diagnostic Related Group (DRG) limits on care costs, and "increased confusion and puzzling paperwork" with the Medicare insurance carrier in Illinois.

Despite such complaints, however, participants generally expressed satisfaction with the care they received from their doctors and hospitals.

A need for improved consumer education also was expressed by seniors. They said there is a lack of understanding about the Medicaid program and its spend-down requirement, as well as the different types of Medicaid insurance available and what they will and will not do.

Participants showed growing interest in health maintenance organizations (HMO), especially in rural areas where few HMOs have been established.

In addition, home health and home care services were identified as desirable and less costly alternatives to unnecessary nursing home placement.

While it was noted that the 1984

Pharmaceutical Bill will help many elderly who suffer from cardiovascular illnesses, a concern was expressed for other senior citizens not qualifying for this program who also need help.

The Illinois Council on Aging, as the advisory body to the Illinois Department on Aging, is mandated to be an official, informal advocate on behalf of Illinois' senior citizens. It is composed of 31 members, at least half of whom are senior citizens.

In High Jump Graves captures second in state track meet

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

CHARLESTON — Eric Graves, the quiet, mustachioed hero of the 1985 Granite City High track season, did his best. When he cleared 6-foot 11-inches on his third attempt in the high jump event last Saturday in the finals of the Class AA boys state track championship here, he erased by one inch his previous high. The effort also broke his own school record.

The dark-haired Graves didn't allow much time to celebrate what he later called "my best day ever." His next thought was to go 7-0 and win the state title. "That's what I wanted," he said.

He didn't get it, although he came within a brush of the bar on his third attempt at 7-0 from doing it. Graves looked like he nearly cleared his 5-11, 160-pound frame over the bar, but the back of his leg made contact. The bar went tumbling.

He said later, "It was pretty close. Real close."

Graves' clearance at 6-foot 11-inches was matched only by Lanny Dillavou of Downers Grove North High. He also didn't clear 7-0. But Dillavou won the state title because he missed just once before clearing 6-11, one miss fewer than Graves.

When Graves was informed of the decision, he showed no outward emotion. He walked over to a scoreboard near the track, and scooped up a few personal items shaded from the sun.

The only Granite City qualifier in the state meet turned and described how he felt to do his best, but fell short of the state crown.

"I'm happy," he said. "But first place would have been great." A senior, Graves' brush with a state title could also have been considered a personal crusade. He qualified in the high jump last year, but his leap of 6-6 left him in sixth place.

The effort was also disappointing, in that he had jumped 6-10 during the season. One reason Graves might have fallen short of his best at last season's state meet was he lacked faith in himself. He tried to make sure that didn't happen again.

"I just said to myself, 'I can do it this year,'" Graves said. "Last year I didn't have any confidence."

Graves had much reason to feel confident this time. After struggling for much of this season with injuries, he soared 8-10 in the sectional meet. The mark was the highest in the state by a Class AA qualifier in the sectionals.

After observing Graves' opponents in the qualifying round Friday, Warrior high jump coach Dave Ames saw more than a glimmer of hope for Graves' chances.

"I just told Eric, 'I don't mean to put any pressure on you. But you can win it,'" Ames said.

Graves' answer, Ames said, was, "Yes, I believe I can." Among those cheering Graves on was his father, Eric, Sr., a Major in the U.S. Army, his mother, Toni, and his sister, Yvette, a sophomore at Granite.

The younger Graves wasted few words in assessing his performance, but his father said that's typical.

"He's basically shy," Graves said of his son. "He's quiet all the time."

The elder Graves specialized in the long jump as a track and field competitor. That didn't stop him from working with Warrior coaches in helping develop his son's high jump skills. On weekends, father-and-son Graves worked out together at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

As his son's coach, the elder Graves analyzed his son's near miss at 7-0. "He was a little short on the last jump. He had enough height. But his approach was just a little slow," he said.

As his proud father, the elder Graves could not have been more pleased. "Eric gave it a real good shot," Eric Graves, Sr. said. "We enjoyed the meet."

Graves' spectacular showing is not likely to be matched any time soon. As it is, the last time a Warrior athlete other than Graves qualified in the state finals in the high jump was in 1972, Ames said.

The qualifier, Don Smith, finished "eighth or ninth," Ames said.

As for his quietness, Graves chuckled lightly. "That's just me. I'm not very emotional. Not really," he said.

He may be quiet, but as a close friend and teammate, Scott Cant, said, "Everyone likes him."

There may also be some question about the emotion part. Graves breezed through the preliminary round Friday, missing just once enroute to clearing the qualifying mark of 6-7.

That night, Eric and his friends viewed a comedy flick.

"It was a Richard Pryor movie," Graves said. "I forgot what the name of it was."

Graves' stellar effort the following afternoon capped a brief, but outstanding athletic career at Granite City. Graves arrived last year in Granite City. The Graves' family has moved several times as a result of the elder Graves' position in the Army.

Graves arrived in time to star at wide receiver for the Warrior football team last fall. He caught 22 passes for 435 yards. He caught four touchdowns passes and intercepted four aerials as a defensive halfback.

Graves said he would like to compete in both football and track in college. He indicated he would likely attend either Southern Illinois University at Carbondale or the University of Illinois. Both schools have recruited him, he said.

That's still some time in the future, though. Asked how he intended to celebrate his showing only minutes earlier, Graves said he didn't know. By now, however, the state's second best Class AA high jumper has likely found a way.

Regional Action

Flyers eclipse Warrior hurlers in final inning

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

COLLINSVILLE — For most of Saturday's first-round regional baseball game here at Art Fletcher Field, the Warriors were winners. Inning by inning, the Warriors and pitcher Eric Gray bettered the Flyers. Behind Gray, who had given up just one hit through the first five innings, the Warriors had taken a 2-0 lead.

They were fielding expertly enough, having committed but one

Moore aloft following his game-winning, two-RBI single.

THE OUTCOME was a paradox, a contrast of emotions.

It was a scene reminiscent of a similar one two and a half weeks before at East St. Louis' Jones' Park, a game the Flyers also won as they defeated the Warriors to clinch the Southwestern Conference title.

Then it was Tuesday, May 7. And, like Saturday it was when where the Warriors had taken a one-run lead into the bottom of the seventh only to see it and an apparent victory slip

Class AA Baseball GCHS hosts sectional this Saturday, Monday

GRANITE CITY — In the final leg of play before next week's Class AA state baseball tournament, the four winners from each of Southern Illinois' four regional tournaments will converge on Varsity Field this Saturday and Monday for the Granite City High School Sectional.

The state tournament is slated for Thursday and Friday, June 6 and 7, at Springfield Langhorne Park. Representing the Alton Regional and who posted a 14-6 victory over Edwardsville to clinch that regional title is Roxana. The Shells will meet Belleville East, the winner of its own regional last weekend, in the first game of the sectional which begins at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 1. The Lancers upended rival school Belleville West to win the regional.

In the other semi-final game,

Cahokia, which edged out Southwestern Conference champion East St. Louis 7-5 on Monday, will meet Harrisburg at 1 p.m. Harrisburg edged Herrin 2-1 Tuesday to win the Salem Regional.

The two semi-final winners will meet on Monday at 4 p.m. for the sectional championship. The winner of the sectional will be one of eight teams to vie for the Class AA state title. The Granite City High School Sectional championship game next Thursday, June 6, at 11:30 a.m. in the first round of the annual state affair.

The state championship game is slated for 7 p.m. next Friday, June 7. Tickets for the sectional tournament are $2 per session — the semi-final and championship sessions.

miscue, a line-drive shot which had found its way through the webbing of Steve Davis' glove. They were hitting, too, garnering at least one hit in every inning but the fourth. And, it appeared, the right-handed Gray had saved his best performance of the season for one of the best teams in the area. The Warriors had seemingly peaked.

REINFORCED with its strongest defensive lineup, Granite City appeared to be cruising to a semifinal victory over the top-seeded Flyers.

But then, in the bottom of the seventh with just two outs to go, the Flyers put together a string of three hits to rally and come back to beat the Warriors, 3-2 to advance to championship game against Cahokia, a game they lost on Monday.

The 12th-hour rally had a numbing effect on the Warriors and their coach, Bob Stegemeier. Gray, who had given up just five hits to the Flyers, was visibly upset with the loss. And Stegemeier, who battled with nervous energy during the game, was shell-shocked with the outcome.

"It just makes you feel real bad," Gray said nearly lost for words afterwards. "We had them and then to see it slip away at the last minute the way it did. It's pretty tough to take. It doesn't really seem fair," said Gray whose record dipped to 5-4.

As for Stegemeier, the Warrior coach declined to comment immediately after the game. "I'll see you back at the school," he said shoving bags into the bat bag.

Meanwhile, the East St. Louis' dugout, which had been sanctuary for the silent and somber previous six innings, had now come alive with chatter and excitement. The Flyers celebrated loudly as they ran onto the field and hoisted Larry away in the final inning. "It certainly seems so," was East St. Louis' coach Art Mays' response when asked if his Flyers have Granite City's number — winning two games in the bottom of the seventh inning.

"Oh my gosh is Granite City tough," Mays said. "We felt like Granite City was the team to beat in the regional. That's why we decided to throw Bobby (Deloach) today. We felt like this game would be for all the marbles."

The Warriors appeared to have all the marbles they needed as they went right to work on Deloach and the Flyers.

ALTHOUGH they didn't manage to score in the first inning, the Warriors certainly served notice that the Flyers were in for a fight. The Warriors picked up two hits in the initial stanza — one by Shane Cole and another by Pat Cathey — which seemed to break the ice.

What "ice" remained after the first inning was easily melted away in the second inning as Davis, who's been wounding a hot bat, blasted a home run over the left center field fence 345 feet away. Deloach was able to retire the next three batters to end the Warriors' inning.

As Gray continued to make short order of the Flyer lineup, Granite City picked up another run in the third to take a 2-0 lead.

ONE CHANGE slapped a one-out single to left field and then Cole plugged another — his second of three hits on the day — to the left center field gap in to put runners on first and third.

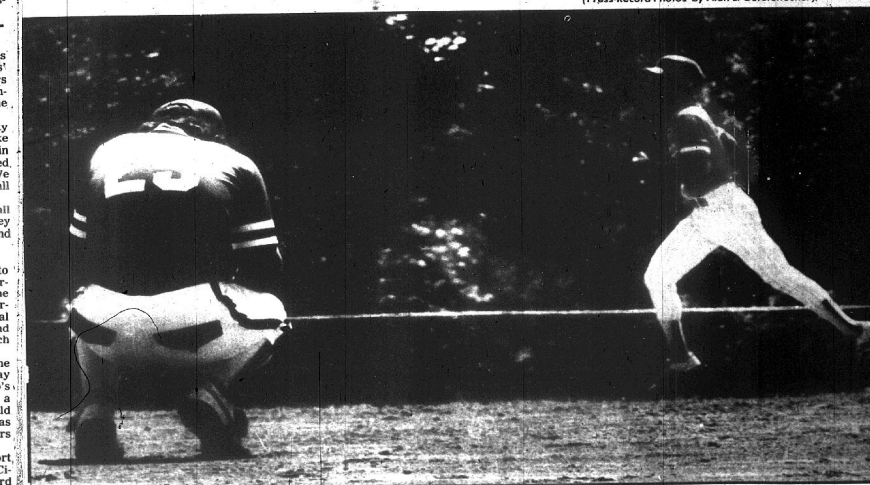

Cathey, batting cleanup, loaded the bases with a hard chopper to first base. Rather than make the play at first, Kenard Wilson elected to throw to second in an attempt to catch Cole for a possible twin killing.

TALE OF THE LONG BALL. Above, Steve Davis, 24, is congratulated by his teammates after hitting a second-inning home run during Saturday's Collinsville Regional baseball game. Below, Granite City High School pitcher Eric Gray takes a break as East St. Louis' Bobby Deloach circles the bases following his sixth inning home run. The Flyers rallied in the bottom of the seventh inning to beat the Warriors and advance to the regional championship.

(Press-Record Photos by Alan L. Gerstenecker)

Wilson's throw, however, was in the dirt, allowing everyone to reach safely to load the bases.

IN THAT situation, Todd "Butch" Hinterser battled Deloach for eight pitches, fouling off four, before he singled to right field to score Chomko.

The Warriors were unable to do any better than that, however, as they stranded three. Granite City never again got the opportunity for such a big inning. The inning ended as Deloach coaxed Davis to swing at a ball low and away and Dennis Gaudreault fled out to retire the side.

"We just couldn't make contact when we had the chance," Stegemeier said from behind the desk in his office at GCHS. "I've always said that baseball's a game of breaks. We didn't get the breaks today and they were lucky."

"DON'T like to use the word luck because I believe a team makes its breaks, but there's no other way to put it. Today I'm convinced that they were the luckier team. They're certainly no better than us."

The Warriors took their two-run lead into the bottom of the sixth. Then five outs away from victory, Deloach slapped a home run of the left center field fence. Cole, attempting to make a play on the long ball, went over the fence with the ball.

Their lead cut, but still winning, the Warriors were unable to further pad their lead in their half of the seventh.

Class AA Softball 'Cinderella' Warriors fall in regional finale

By GREGG OCHOA for the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — Granite City was a huge underdog in its bid for a first-ever regional softball championship.

"This was the World Series for our kids," said Granite City Coach Jim Davis. "To pull off an upset would have been the ultimate."

The Warriors tumbled on Super-man's cape, but their grip just wasn't tight enough. Granite City dropped a 3-0 decision to Bethalto in the finals of the Edwardsville Regional Tuesday afternoon at Vandalia Field.

Junior hurler Roanna Brazier limited Granite City to just three hits and slugged an insurance home run as the Eagles ran their record to 23-3. The regional championship was the third straight for Bethalto, the tournament's No. 1 seed.

GRANITE CITY, whose season ended at 9-17, wasn't expected to be in the championship game. The Warriors were seeded sixth in the eight-team regional. Granite City, however, knocked off Wood River (3) and Edwardsville (2).

"No question we're the underdogs," said Davis after the Warriors held off a late rally by Edwardsville to win 3-2 last Saturday in the semifinals.

It was tight defense that carried Granite City through the tournament. Michelle Staggs and Amy Moss shined against Edwardsville and in the Warriors' victory over Wood River with their defensive play.

THE WARRIORS made the most of their four hits against the Tigers and got good pitching to avenge a nine-inning loss during the regular season.

Kathy Hutchings got the save taking over for Michelle Morgan.

Softball regional winners travel south

MURPHYSBORO — Three of the top 15 ranked teams in the state will do battle this weekend in the Class AA state softball sectional.

Bellefonte West (23-2) beat rival Althoff to win the Mascoutah regional and will meet Bethalto (23-3) in a sectional semifinal Saturday, June 1 at noon.

West enters the tournament No. 7 ranked in a statewide poll. Bethalto, which defeated Granite City in the regional finals, is ranked No. 12.

In both regular season meetings,

"I knew Kathy could come in and throw strikes and that's all we wanted," Davis said.

Against Bethalto, the Warriors knew they had to be on their toes. Scoring runs off Brazier isn't easy.

She had pitched the first perfect game of her career against Roxana. During the regular season, Brazier averaged 10 strikeouts a contest. She had given up only three earned runs. Brazier's ERA was a microscopic .154.

"WE WERE just hoping to put the ball in play, anyway we could, and try to make them field it and throw it away," Davis said.

Two of the Warriors' three hits were didn't get out of the infield. The third, by designated hitter Elaine Reinagel, scooped right by the second base bag.

Granite City had just four base runners, but couldn't put together a rally.

the Maroons beat Bethalto by identical 1-0 scores in seven and 11 innings.

The first semifinal will pit No. 1 ranked Herrin (22-0) against Salem. Gametime is 10 a.m.

The championship game is set for Monday, June 3, at Murphysboro with the winner advancing to the state quarterfinals at Pekin. The survivor will meet the winner of the Washington sectional on June 6 at 8 p.m.

Tickets are $2 for students and $2.50 for adults.

Bethalto managed just four hits off Morgan, who started her third straight tournament game for Granite City.

"WE KIND of put the whole load on Michelle's shoulders during the tournament and she handled it really well," Davis said.

Morgan got off to a shaky start in the first inning when she issued three walks. Morgan allowed two more free passes in the second then gained her control and only walked just one other batter the rest of the game.

"Maybe the first inning jitters got to her," Davis said.

The Eagles scored two times in the inning. With one out, Julie Drake and Denise Madison both walked and scored on an RBI single by first baseman Kary McDonough.

"ROXANA's been the big name the last two years," said Bethalto Coach Jeff Dyer. "But Kary's really come through and she got the big hit for us today."

McDonough, Bethalto's leading hitter, now has 41 RBIs this season. And for the Eagles, who at times have had problems scoring runs, McDonough's hit was the spark they needed.

"We obviously wanted to get out first," Dyer said, "because we knew they had good defense."

The Warriors got that good glove play in the championship game.

Catcher Karen Sykes threw a runner out trying to steal. Moss made a good catch on a rocket hit to first. Kerl Holtcamp made a tough chance at second look easy. Staggs roamed center with ease.

BUT EVEN that couldn't carry the Warriors past Bethalto.

Granite City threatened in fourth. With one out, Sykes legged out an infield hit. Holtcamp got another infield hit, putting runners on first and second.

The Warriors, however, got a bad break when Kim Armour was called out after attempting to bunt. The ball hit Armour while she was still in the batter's box. The inning ended harmlessly when Reinagel fouled out to the catcher.

In the bottom of the inning, Brazier padded the Eagle lead with a two-out homer to left field. The Warriors had a chance to get Brazier at the plate but Kathy Hutchings' relay throw was not in time.

PRIOR to Brazier's blast, Sykes threw out Amy Leonard trying to steal.

"We wanted to try and generate something in the middle innings," Dyer said. "We couldn't get anything but Rox's homer."

Brazier, who no-hit the Warriors in last year's regional tournament and fired a one-hitter against Granite City earlier in the season, didn't allow another baserunner after the fourth.

All told, she struck out 11 and walked just one.

"She's the class of the area and she showed why," Davis said. "We played about as good as we could against her. She just overpowers you." Brazier has now won 20 games this season and has lost just three times.

BETHALTO ran themselves out of another run in the seventh. Brazier started things off with a walk and Drake reached when her grounder rolled under Hutchings' glove. Madison then sent a fly ball to center which was snagged by Michelle Staggs and Brazier apparently scored. However, she was called out for leaving the base too early.

The Warriors hit the ball hard in the seventh inning, but Brazier was still throwing hard and retired the side to end the game.

"I actually thought they would get the bat on the ball more," Dyer said. "I wanted to get more runs because I knew they would be tough in the field."

GRANITE CITY committed two errors, but neither one led to Eagle runs.

"They have improved tremendously," Dyer said. "You can tell by the way they play."

The Warriors got solid defense from Amy Moss at first and Anne Pushie at third. Staggs also made some fine plays in center field.

"This is a completely different team from the first of the year," Davis said. "They have responded to the style of play which I want and have been fundamentally sound."

"We want them to be in position to make the plays and try to stress how the game is supposed to be played."

THE WARRIORS, who had a three-game winning streak snapped, will lose five starters to graduation.

Davis said he wasn't surprised by his team's play late in the season. Granite City won four of its last six games prior to the tournament.

"We lost some tough games during the season, but I really felt he had a chance (in the regionals)."

"Everyone of these kids have contributed in some part in all of our victories."

Basketball Update

Catalpa applies for East job

By GERRY BLISS for the Press-Record

COLLINSVILLE — Gene Catalpa, the deposed basketball coach at Collinsville High School, has applied for head basketball coach at Belleville East High School.

Catalpa, who was fired by the Collinsville School Board April 8, confirmed that he has applied for the position that was vacated after long-time coach Don Otteson resigned.

Belleville East Athletic Director Dennis Bechtold also confirmed that Catalpa has submitted an application, but that no interviews have taken place yet.

THE OPENING also involves a teaching position, and Bechtold said the right candidate would also have to be a teacher. No exact date has been set to fill the position Bechtold said.

"The job is being advertised," he said. "Right now, it's being advertised internally (within the Belleville High School district) and that has another week to go. After that, we'll be opening it up outside. No date has been set yet. That will be determined when all the interviews have taken place."

Bechtold wouldn't say who are some of the leading candidates, but he did say Catalpa was worthy of consideration.

"I KNOW Gene, I've coached against him," Bechtold said. "His record is outstanding. He has done a good job and his record reflects that."

Meanwhile, it has been rumored that Lincoln, Ill. Coach Loren Wallace, who was one of the leading candidates to fill Catalpa's spot, is also being considered for the East job.

Wallace said that he has sent an application for the East opening. Wallace has been a coach at Lincoln for a number of years and has one of the state's better coaching records.

When asked why he applied for the Collinsville opening, and has now applied for the East job, Wallace said, "they are two of the better jobs in the state that have opened up and they just appealed to us."

CATALPA, who coached seven seasons at Collinsville and posted a 126-65 record, feels he's a qualified candidate for the East position.

"I think I'm qualified as anyone who has applied," he said. "But you never know what they want. They would want someone younger."

Catalpa added that if he is being considered for the job, he would want some guarantees.

"I don't know if they have a teaching opening, but if they did, I would want a guarantee that it wouldn't be cut," he said. "I'd be giving up a lot of seniority at Collinsville."

Still, Catalpa sees the East job as a ripe opportunity.

"I'll tell you this," he said, "they have the talent down there. I've always thought they have had some of the better talent in the area. It would be a nice place to coach if the conditions were right."

Catalpa didn't have much to say about the hiring of former Kahok standout Bob Bone as his replacement, except that "he'll have his work cut out."

Elledge signs with Millikin

DECATUR — Steve Elledge, a LeRoy High School wrestler who was sixth in the state championships, has informed Millikin University Coach Mike Poe that he will enroll at Millikin this fall.

Elledge is the grandson of Ruby Pyles of Granite City the son of Charles and Barbara Elledge formerly of Granite City.

The 165-pound Elledge had 107 victories during his career, was named most valuable member of his team and twice was named team captain. He holds several team records including fastest pin, most pins and career and season take downs.

He also has lettered in football, baseball and track, winning all-conference honors in football and twice serving as team captain.

A "student of the month" award winner and a member of the National Honor Society, he plans to major in welding engineering in Millikin's Taber School of Business and Engineering.

Milliken qualified four wrestlers for the NCAA Division III national tournament last season and was nationally ranked as a team much of the year.

State Track Trojans fare well despite obstacles

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

CHARLESTON — The size of the deed doesn't always determine the full measure of the hero. Need proof?

There were no first place finishes for Madison's Trojans in the finals of the Class A boys state track championship last Saturday here.

But the Trojans' Russell Porter, Terrence Hicks, Reggie Banks and Reggie Young — especially Young — displayed a champion's heart by finishing fourth in the 400 and 800 meter relay events.

The Trojans have won more points in other years than the 10 they earned last weekend. But it's doubtful their performance has brought a bigger smile than the one proudly worn by Charles Steptoe, head coach and patriarch of Madison's boys track program.

YOU MIGHT have seen him Saturday afternoon sitting in an upper corner of O'Brien Stadium.

Around his neck was one of the four-place medals the Trojans won earlier in the day.

Across his face was a smile of pure gold.

"I think they did great," said Steptoe.

And a gentle breeze ruffled the stands, taking a seat alongside Steptoe and his moment of joy.

It was a different picture the previous day. Misfortune landed a stiff uppercut, threatening the Trojans' hopes in the finals.

YOUNG sprained his ankle while attempting to qualify for the finals in the triple jump event. Banks was disqualified in the 300 meter low hurdles after hitting to a second-place finish in his heat with an unofficial personal best time of 38.2.

The twist of misfortune happened almost simultaneously. Banks had completed his heat, good enough for a place in the finals, and was walking off the track when the long arm of a judge caught up with him. The official told Banks he was disqualified for dragging his trailing leg around a hurdle instead of over it.

"Oh, man. I jumped over the hurdle. I know I did," said Banks, as he stooped down to pick up a white cap.

WITH A look of hurt and disappointment, Banks walked away. His stride put him directly behind Young, who after lying for several seconds in pain where he had landed wrong on his ankle, was assisted to his feet and then to the trainer's room.

A freeze frame of the two making their way along the gravel path summed up the terrible blow that had been landed. Young and Banks were expected to place high in their respective events. Young had posted the second best sectional performance in the triple jump at 45-8 1/2.

Banks' time of 39.1 was the third best in sectional action. The disqualification put the Trojans out of the 300 meter low hurdles. Young's injury made it uncertain he could compete in the finals of the triple jump. It also cast a cloud over Trojans' hopes in the 400 and 800 meter relays.

YOUNG anchored the 800 meter relay squad, and Banks ran the final split in the 400 meter relay. Along with Porter and Hicks, they had already qualified the two teams for the finals.

"I feel it was a bad call," said Banks in the stillness of the trainer's room. "But I'll accept it. There's nothing I can do about it."

Steptoe agreed with Banks' call was unjustified, but he was not successful in obtaining a different ruling.

"I'm mainly concerned about him though," Banks said. He looked over to a table on the other side of the trainer's room where Young lay propped up on his elbows, his ankle encased in ice.

YOUNG propped further up on the table. "If I make the finals, I'll be back," he said.

That was the picture Friday afternoon. The following day brought this from the Trojans and Young.

In the 400 meter relay, the Trojans finished with a time of 44.09, slightly off their qualifying time of 43.98.

Warriors lose

Carl Brown reached on a single to left field before Gray managed to retire pinch-hitter send down Jeff Guiley on three sinking pitches.

With two out and one on — Brian Cox who was pinch-running for Company — Kerwin Price, the Flyers' ninth batter in the lineup, doubled down the right field line to put runners on second and third.

Then the end. Moore, the first batter in the Flyers' lineup, battled off a chinker to short center field. The hit found the chink in the Warriors' armor. It was too deep for Hinzner to catch and it was too shallow for even Hogan and one of his diving catches.

RUNNING on the crack of the bat, Cox and Price scampered across the plate to win the game. The third-out was never played.

In 10 seconds, the Warrior dugout which had been afire with playoff fever had grown dreadfully quiet. Instead, the enthusiasm transplanted itself in the Flyers' dugout.

"It was a great pitch by Gray," Stegemeier said. "You can't ask for more than that. Their kid just got a chinker off the end of the bat. He hit a good pitch," Stegemeier said.

"We hit the ball solid and it goes right at them. They hit off the end of the bat and in falls in to win the game. I have to say that they were luckier than us. There's no other way to explain it," Stegemeier said.

The loss dropped the Warriors' record to 20-15. East St. Louis, which later lost to Cahokia 7-5 in the Collinsville Regional championship game, ended its season with a 28-5.

NOTES: Cole who was 3-for-4 in Saturday's game was voted the team's most valuable player. He ended the season with a .423 average. On another note, Fred Becker, who was chasing Bob Batey's single season stolen base record of 25 fell one short, getting 24; Becker, pinch-running for Chomko in the fifth inning, stole one base in the game with East St. Louis.

Robins lead Inter-City

GRANITE CITY — Looking toward the third week of Inter-City Baseball League play, the Brooklyn Robins lead all other teams with a 4-0 record. The Robins, in their second season in the league, are the only undefeated team in the league.

In action last weekend, McDonald's, one of two Granite City teams in the league were double winners as they upended the Metro Wildcats 16-4 and 5-2. McDonalds, which is managed by Rick Flicker, is 3-1 in the league.

The Granite City Chiefs, the other local team in the league, is playing .500 ball, currently standing at 2-2 in league action. Last Sunday, the Chiefs dropped a double-header to the East St. Louis Ambassadors 7-0 and 6-2. The Chiefs are managed by Dennis Gurkin.

This Sunday, June 2, McDonald's will play at Maryville; East St. Louis will travel to Brooklyn; the Eagles will be hosted by Granite City and the Metro Wildcats will host East Alton.

All games begin at 1 p.m.

HE SAID he kept his foot elevated and treated it with ice during the night. Still, "the ankle is not 100 percent," he said. The injury caused him to scratch from the triple jump.

Not only did Young's ankle receive treatment, so did the Trojans' spirits. Indeed, if you can't cry, why not laugh?

"We were all joking about it," said Porter, who will study pre-engineering at Southeast Missouri State ultimately planning to transfer to the New York Institute of Technology.

"ALL THAT bad stuff," said Banks, who will study construction technology and play basketball at Southwest Missouri State. "We just put it behind us and concentrated on today. It could have been better."

"But we'll settle for this," said Porter.

The Trojans did something else. They took their case to a Higher Authority. "Yes sir," said Hicks, who along with Young are juniors. "We prayed."

"They said their prayers in earnest," said Steptoe, sitting in the stands.

Whoosh. There goes another gentle breeze.

Gateway BPW installs Judith McCann

Sallie Jo Burton, past president of the Collinsville Business and Professional Women and a past District 14 director, conducted a flower ceremony to install the 1985-86 officers of Gateway BPW at an afternoon luncheon meeting at Charlie's Restaurant.

Newly elected officers include Judith McCann, president, Joy Wofford, vice president, Debra Salich, secretary, and Marie Szymcek, treasurer.

Barbara Hodges, the retiring president, gave the welcoming address, followed by LaVelle Stephens offering the invocation.

Miss Burton noted the flower service relates to each office, with a specific flower for the different officers, and the rose is the highlight of the ceremony. She presented Mrs. McCann with an arrangement of red roses and said it represented the group working together as a team.

The past president introduced out-of-town guests including Leola Hanvey, Alice Kait and Helen Abbott of Belle East BPW, Mary Lou Malwitz of Collinsville BPW, current District 14 director, and Carolyn Cruise of East St. Louis, first associate director of District 14.

After the ceremony Mrs. McCann presented a gift from the members and a past president's pin to Mrs. Hodges, who then gave the president's pin and gavel to the new president.

Mrs. McCann said, "We must establish goals and objectives both as long- and short-range plans to Psalm 94:18 ... "When I said, My foot slipeth; thy mercy, O Lord, held me up."

Life is full of discouragements and disappointments. We do not always foresee when they will come. If we did, then perhaps we would be better prepared to handle them.

However, as God's children we have his promise that he will never leave us or forsake us. His mercy endureth forever and he will hold us up. Surely life trials only serve to help us realize that God's grace is sufficient.

The Scriptures teach us that if God be for us, who can be against us? Surely with God all things are possible. Let the Lord hold you up. Today.

DAR chapter earns awards and installs

State conference awards were announced at a meeting of the Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, held at Burns Cafeteria.

The chapter was honored for 100 percent participation in the president general's project and for the independence Jubilee Project. Both are helping to restore the society's historic buildings in Washington, D.C.

Honorable mention awards were received for the honor roll and for Liberty Love Day, a project for restoration of the Statue of Liberty. Drusilla Andrews received the Division VI outstanding yearbook award for 1984-85.

The pledge of allegiance was led by Regent Sandra Wilkinson. The president general's message was read by Linda Koenig, and Barbara Williams conducted a memorial service for Eva Renfro, former chaplain of the chapter.

The regent announced that during the 94th Continental Congress, the annual DAR national meeting in Washington, Nancy Reagan became the 691,000th woman, and eighth First Lady, to be accepted into the society since its inception on Oct. 11, 1890.

Dr. Margaret Rhea Seddon, a recent shuttle astronaut, is a member of the DAR. It was noted. Members must trace their ancestors back to a man or woman who with unfailing loyalty to the cause of American independence served in the Revolutionary War.

Barbara Williams gave a talk on her recent trip to India, noting the many differences between the two countries way of life.

The following officers were installed by Margaret Bell, regent Mrs. H. Bryan Wilkinson, vice regent Mrs. Barbara Williams, chaplain Mrs. George Vanesier, secretary, Mrs. William A. Koenig, treasurer Mrs. Willard Simpson, registrar Mrs. Emma Schoen and historian-librarian, Miss Mildred McCormick. Also attending was Mae McCormick.

Circus performance caps a year of service from BAC

CIRCUS DAY. Rich Schnitzer, a member of the All American Mini Circus, performs a juggling act at Belleville Area College. The group, which is based out of Boston, appeared as part of Maze Daze, one of the entertainment programs offered at the college.

Belleville Area College (BAC) brought the circus to town for Illinois Community College Week, capping a year of topnotch entertainment opportunities, which brought more than 25,000 people to campus.

Jugglers, tumblers and clowns of the All American Mini Circus entertained community residents as well as students and their families in two performances. The circus was fun for fans of all ages.

Rex Smith of Granite City was selected from the audience to participate in an act called "Risk Your Life." Two jugglers stood on each side of Smith and passed juggling pins to each other, throwing them around him.

"I thought their act was fascinating," he said. "They were pretty good."

The circus also performed for the children in the college's Child-Sitting Center.

Elaine Dean of O'Fallon, a student worker in the center, said the children loved the 20-minute show.

"One of the children—a boy named Jerome—participated in a magic trick," Dean said. "He found himself holding four balls in his hands after the magician said the magic words. He thought that was great."

The response to the circus is just one example of how more and more people are turning to BAC for cultural, athletic and civic activities as well as for quality educational programs.

The college is the location for civic activities, such as Belleville's Fourth of July fireworks display, the Boy Scouts annual jamboree and a number of extension service agricultural workshops.

BAC, in conjunction with the Belleville News-Democrat, sponsored a performance of the Chicago City Ballet. The community responded with a sell-out performance.

Movies played to standing-room only crowds several times and 1,700 people came to hear "A True Ghostbuster Lecture," a supernaturalist slide show and lecture by Ed and Lorraine Warren.

The Shakespeare Festival of Chicago presented three performances of "A Christmas Carol" to standing-room only audiences of more than 1,000 people per performance.

Jay Harrington, BAC's athletic director, said athletic facilities are used continuously by community organizations.

"In 1984, our varsity gym was used by over 20,000 people from organizations other than those involved in BAC's athletic or physical education classes," he said.

"These groups use the gym for a variety of activities. The Illinois State Police use it for fitness training; the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement, for testing; the Police Academy, for classes; the Tri County Carpenters, for a carpentry apprenticeship test; and the Southwest Officials Association, for a referee clinic."

BAC's Athletic Department sponsors summer camps for area youth in basketball, tennis, baseball, soccer and cheerleading.

The college also works with eight-grade students who have been designated as gifted students. Judy Ackerman of the Gifted Area Service Center of the Regional Superintendent's Office said BAC offers college-level classes for gifted students in college algebra, computer science, and rhetoric and composition.

Seventh and eighth graders can take BASIC computer programming at BAC's five-day summer computer camps, sponsored by BAC's Career Business Center.

BAC also offers many on-going programs and services to the BAC district and surrounding communities.

Miles Reynolds, director of the college's Business Assistance Center, explained how his office serves the business community.

"The Business Assistance Center meets both large and small-business needs for information, counseling and training," Reynolds said.

"Workshops, seminars and custom-designed training is offered as needs arise in the business community."

Other on-campus services include the Child-Sitting Center and Programs and Services for Older Persons.

BAC's child-sitting service is available for a nominal fee to parents while they are attending classes. Elaine Mills, director of the center, said many students use the center's services.

"We have about 25 to 30 children that attend during the day and four to 10 during evening classes," she said.

BAC's Programs and Services for Older Persons (PSOP) offers a variety of services to the area's senior citizens. The service offers a Senior Nutrition Program, which serves a well-balanced noon meal for those 60 years of age and older and delivers it to those who are disabled, handicapped or socially isolated.

The Senior Companion Program selects persons 60 years of age and older, who meet low-income guidelines, to serve as companions to older persons who have special needs.

Senior Aides employ eligible individuals throughout the college district to work 20 hours a week in non-profit organizations enabling those groups to provide additional service to the community.

The Multi-Purpose Senior Center is the home of the comprehensive program that provides recreational, social and educational services to those 60 years of age and older.

The Advocacy Program assists those 60 years and older in dealing with government-benefit programs such as Medicare, Circuit Breaker, Homestead Exemption and Medicaid.

Outreach Services help older persons by obtaining social services including medical, financial and nutritional services.

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) provides volunteer opportunities for persons age 60 and over in non-profit agencies and organizations.

Classes focus on English skills

Classes for students who need to brush up basic reading and English skills have been added to Belleville Area College's summer schedule.

The classes—Developmental Reading III (GSBS 0154) and English Fundamentals (GSBS 0088)—will be offered at both the Belleville campus and at Granite City Center.

The classes start Monday, June 10, and meet Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

The English class will be from 8:30 to 10:20 a.m.; the reading class will meet from 1 to 2:50 p.m.

There also will be a study skills class (GSBS 146) meeting from 10:30 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. the same days for those who need additional help.

Students interested in taking the classes must first take the ASSET (Assessment of Skills for Successful Entry and Transfer) placement test.

For more information about the classes, students may contact Mary Miller, 1-235-2700 extension 363 or Jeanne Davis, extension 348.

BAC welding program offers opportunity

For Belleville Area College student Darrell Helman, the college's welding technology program has meant the opportunity to learn a skill, a chance to travel and a job. Helman will soon be starting a job as a welder for D&M Trailer Repair of Granite City.

In June, he is going to Phoenix, Ariz., to take part in the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) National Skill Olympics.

He will compete in the welding competition, one of 32 trades represented in the olympics.

He placed first in the VICA State Skill Olympics, held May 9 to 11 in Springfield, Ill., and said he should have a good chance at Phoenix.

"Efficiency is the most important thing," he said. "You have to do a good job in a certain amount of time, and I should be able to do well." Helman, who is a native of Lincoln, Ill., is president of BAC's VICA chapter. Welding technology program coordinator Garner Kimbrell said Helman is responsible for most of the chapter's success.

"He's one heck of a student," Kimbrell said. "Darren did most of the work to get BAC a VICA Post-Secondary Growth Award for increased membership last year."

Helman has many good things to say about the BAC welding technology program.

"We have a very good program," he said. "It teaches a variety of (welding) processes and the teachers know their stuff."

He said the program teaches most of the processing used by welders in industry today, and that is a big plus, especially when BAC welding students get jobs.

"After we got some of the local industries to take a few of the guys and see the knowledge that they have. They just keep coming back," he said.

SIUE receives $98,177 energy grant

A $98,177 energy conservation grant received by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville from the U.S. Department of Energy will be used to match state funds for an energy-saving project at Lovejoy Library.

According to the university's Office of Supporting Services, state appropriations are being sought in Fiscal Year 1986 to convert the library's air handling system for reheating purposes and to install soft insulation in the building. Total cost of the project is estimated at $196,354.

The U.S. grant was announced by Gov. James R. Thompson along with over $2.9 million in energy conservation grants for 81 other Illinois schools and hospitals.

Designed to reduce energy costs in educational and health care facilities, the Institutional Conservation Program is administered by the Illinois Department of Energy and Natural Resources (ENR). ENR solicits schools and hospitals for energy conservation projects, ranks the proposals in terms of energy savings and forwards them to the U.S. Department of Energy for final funding approval.

An energy analysis of all major campus facilities at SIUE was completed in 1982. The audit was updated in March 1984, resulting in recommendations for the completion of several projects which were submitted for partial funding by the U.S. Department of Energy.

Memorial Day . . .

A Salute

Photos and Story
by PATRICK FOLEY

The lawn of Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307, with row after row of hundreds of white crosses, each decorated with a U.S. flag, provided the setting for the annual Memorial Day observance in Venice Monday morning. Each cross bears the name of a deceased member of Post 307 or a serviceman, from the two communities, killed in action. A replica of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier was surrounded by the traditional Flanders' poppies.

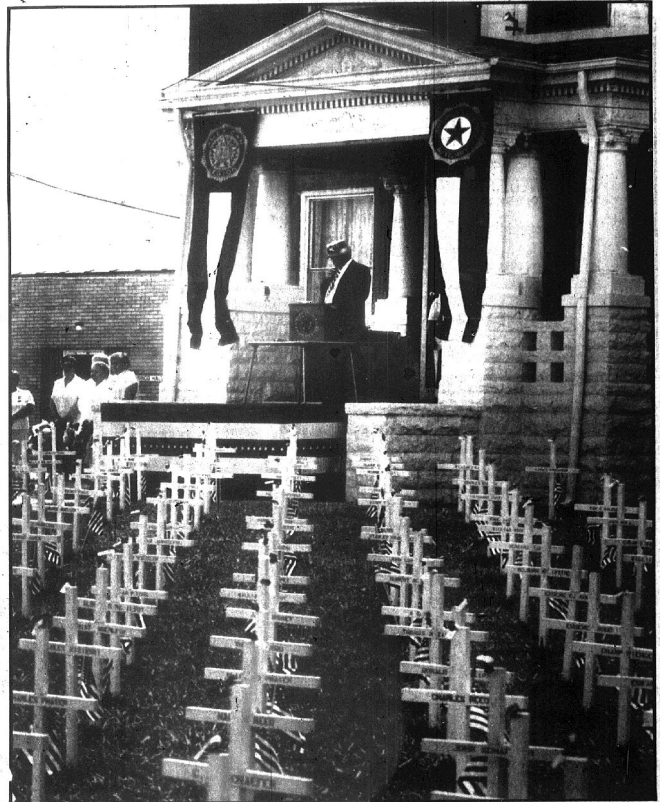

Members of Boy Scout Troop One and Cub Scout Pack One participated in the ceremonies, each having its own color guard and the Troop One members raising the U.S. flag and a POW-MIA flag. The Post 307 Color Guard posted colors and provided a gun salute honoring the war dead.

Guest speaker was Gene Bradtke, senior vice commander of the American Legion 22nd District and adjutant of Post 113 in Granite City. Father Elzear Gehlen, pastor of St. Mark Church in Venice, offered prayer. The Pledge of Allegiance was recited by the more than 60 persons attending the ceremonies. Members of the Auxiliary placed wreaths in front of the tomb and "Taps" was played as the flag was raised.

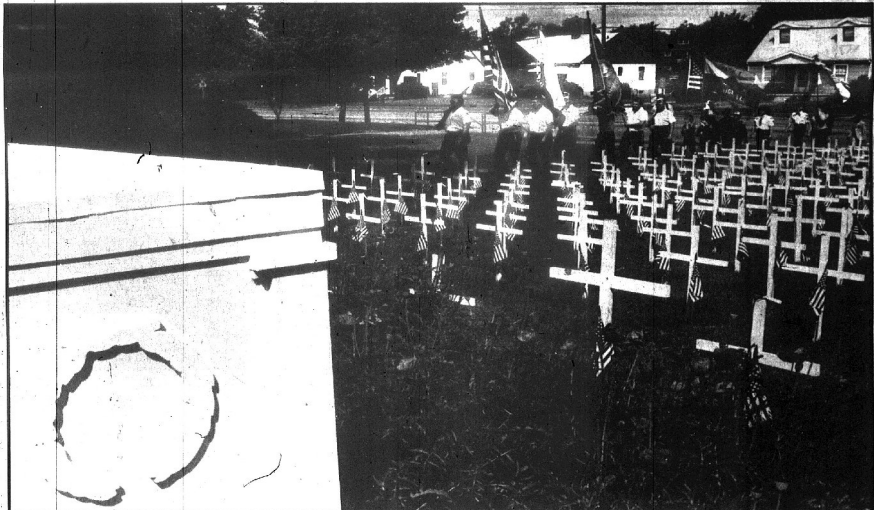

A SALUTE IS FIRED by the Post 307 Color Guard.

ROWS OF CROSSES decorate the lawn in front of the speaker's podium.

CUB SCOUTS of Den 1 participate.

FLANDERS' POPPIES surround a replica of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Speakers are less restricted at GC council meetings

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
Staff writer

Granite City aldermen approved a motion Tuesday night that will place less restrictions on those wishing to speak at City Council meetings.

Previously, residents or representatives of local groups were required to be placed on the agenda before their request to speak would be considered. This required the person to inform the city clerk by 5 p.m. Thursday of his intention to speak the following Tuesday, and to list the topic he would be speaking about.

After being placed on the agenda, the request was still subject to council approval before it was granted. But new Mayor Von Dee Cruse asked aldermen to reconsider the procedure.

"I feel that people who want to come and speak before the council should be allowed to do so without being placed on the agenda," Cruse said. "Ninety-nine percent of the people who want to speak don't understand or don't know how to go

DUI legislation clears Senate

Legislation which provides for automatic driver license suspensions for driving under the influence of alcohol (DUI) has passed the Illinois Senate on a unanimous vote, 54-0, and gone to the House.

The bill requires an automatic license suspension of 3 months for failing a chemical test and 6 months for refusing to take the test.

about the current procedure. "I think some guidelines as to what subject is being talked about should be considered. But I think letting people speak with only council approval is worth a try."

Alderman Sam Whitmer, 2nd Ward, disagreed with Cruse. "Before this procedure was passed, we had people coming up here who were downright insulting," Whitmer said. "We had one guy come up here and say that all of the aldermen were a bunch of crooks and, before he got out the door, he said 'And mayor, you're the biggest crook of all.'"

"This has been a good rule (requiring speakers to be placed on the agenda) and it's worked. I think it should stay as it is so we've got some control," Whitmer added.

Paul Fisk, alderman of the 3rd Ward, reiterated Whitmer's opinion. "Even when Sam repeated what was said about the aldermen being crooks, someone in the audience tonight had to add 'That's the truth,'"

Fisk said. "This is precisely the type of thing we're talking about. The people in the audience expect us to give them a little consideration, but we expect them to show us some consideration, too."

Whitmer asked Cruse if he had been influenced to bring up the topic by an editorial that appeared in last Thursday's Press-Record. Cruse said he had been influenced somewhat by the editorial.

"I read the Press-Record from cover to cover," he said. "But I had this in my mind while I was campaigning, also."

"One pledge I made was to have town forums, where people could voice their opinions on city government or on problems in their neighborhoods. If the council does not agree to lessen the restrictions, I am going to make a proposal that we start having town meetings."

Alderman Brett Hanke, 3rd Ward, moved to allow residents to speak on council approval only, as is stated in the city's Municipal Code. The motion was seconded by Woodrow "Woody" Moad, 6th Ward, and approved by a majority of council members.

FOR PET'S SAKE

by James R. Hill, D.V.M.
THE BREEDING CYCLE

Generally, a female dog will come in season for the first time at around eight months of age. It is usually considered wiser, however, to wait until the second season—approximately six months later—before breeding her. It is also advisable to do so the first time before she is three years old.

A female dog may be bred again the following season, but this presents some risk to her health. Raising a litter of puppies is a considerable drain on the dam, and litters should be allowed for her to replace calcium reserves, and for the reproductive system to come back to normal. Generally speaking, skipping a season would be in your dog's best interest.

She should also be bred only when she is in good health, free from any disease, as well as internal and external parasites. This is important for the puppies as well as for the dam. Contagious disease and some parasites can be passed on from mother to her litter. Consequently, a thorough physical examination is recommended before breeding.

Helpful hint: Does your pet resist taking pills? Try putting the medication in bread crumbs, soft cheese or peanut butter.
